about purplecon

A photograph of a classical building's facade at night, featuring large, fluted columns supporting a triangular pediment. The words "UNIVERSITY OF NEW SOUTH WALES" are visible above the entrance. The scene is illuminated by artificial lights, creating a warm glow against the dark sky.

purplecon is an intensely wholesome conference, with strong themes of diversity, equity and inclusion.

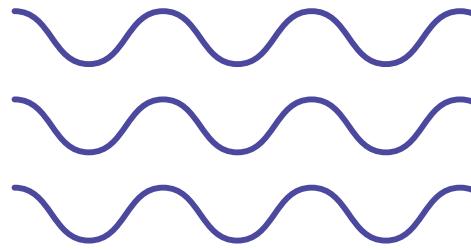

purplecon is Australia's most lowercase security conference, dedicated to positive, actionable security practices and advice.

The conference brings together ~350 security researchers, industry professionals, and students from Australia, New Zealand, and the world for a day of presentations, lightning talks, and social opportunities.

The legal and financial structure for purplecon 2024 is provided by Linux Australia Inc., a not-for-profit body.

community & inclusion

Community & Inclusion
Half of purplecon's tickets are reserved for people who self-identify as being marginalised in tech.

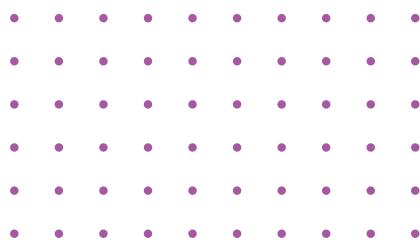

We believe it's important for everyone to have the opportunity to learn from and be engaged (nay, embraced) by the community.

All presenters are given speaker training, and new speakers are mentored.

Code of Conduct purplecon has a strict, positive code of conduct, which all speakers and attendees agree to.

repository of knowledge

Streaming & Playback

- purplecon may end, but learning doesn't. That's why all purplecon talks are livestreamed, and available after the conference is over

The Great Archive

- As well as sharing their knowledge in talk form, presenters add to The Great Archive, an archive of knowledge. It's great.
- This not only helps talks be high quality, but also makes their content available to people who couldn't attend the conference.
